The march was by the way of Congress, Middle and Exchange streets. Such earnestness and precision was in every step that one could not think of the tramp of the Boys in Blue, familiar to our newspapers in the early sixties. It was a bright, strong, yallant, legion of recruits for King Immanuel.

Carroll Watkins and Winfield Wright carried the Bateh banner and the first four following were Prof. Tinscom, J. B. Back of St. Paris, Mr. Curran and Harold Bish. Mr. Fickett had not yet arrived.

Without the least confusion the banquet hall was entered and filled with guests and noise. It seems as though the yells and cheers must have been heard from the Eastern Promenade to Broadwater.

The Inn is receiving attention from decorators. Already an annex is being discussed. A new life will enter our village when a new hostelry attracts attractive people. The new automobile Ideal Route makes Bethel the stopping place between Poland Springs and Bretton Woods. It would seem as though there might be a new field of delightful industries clustering around this new hotel. Clever people might possibly find that they could make themselves delightfully indispensable to the needs of the New Inn, and, in return, find a wider field for their abilities, than our limited village resources have thus far afforded. It would be delightful to its owners to feel that the whole town should be the happier for this most useful project.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Reveries—A Column
Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

There are two good rules which ought to be written on every heart.
Never believe anything bad about anybody unless you positively know it is true; never tell even that, unless you feel that it is absolutely necessary, and that God is listening while you tell it.—Henry Van Dyke.

TOO KEEP SUNSHINE IN THE HOME.

Don't show irritability over trifles.
Don't keep on constantly finding fault.
Don't withhold praise when praise is due.
Don't make the most of trouble.
Don't forget that health in the home is the best sunshine.
Don't forget that a little encouragement is always stimulating.
Don't get downhearted if the sunshine seems to disappear. Remember the sun can pierce the blackest clouds.

POPULAR GIRLS.

Everybody likes girls who do their best to be pleasant and courteous at all times, who do not repeat unpleas-ing remarks made about you by other girls; who, although they cannot boast of a spare penny, always look neat and sleek; who are lavish with their smiles, and are sorry when they are obliged to frown; who look out every day for the happy things of life; who try to jump over all the little ridges that break up the smoothness of their path, who are happy because they make people about them see the sunshine; who always have a good word for everybody; and who appreciate the fact that the world was not made for them alone, and who do not always expect the best it has to offer.

WHAT SHOULD BE A WOMAN'S AMBITION IN LIFE?

To do well and thoroughly the work lying nearest at hand, no matter how simple and homely that work may be.
A woman's ambition in life should be first, to make a home; second, to make it as near to heaven as is within mortal's power to do so.

A woman's ambition in life should be to make all those with whom she comes in contact live up to their highest and best, to bring all their good qualities into daily use.

To prove herself what God created her to be—a helpmeet, not to one man only, but to all around her, and to uphold the dignity of womanhood in whatever condition of life she may be placed.

By purity, sweetness, and self-accuse, to be on earth the joy of many as, if God wills it, the terrestrial paradise of one; to bring to the highest perfection the gifts she possesses, and to remain free from envy of those favored her.

If married, a woman's ambition would be to look well after her household, and be a ready helpmeet to her husband, sharing alike in his cares and joys, and if unmarried to hold out a helping hand to many a weary traveler on life's road. So that although "unappropriated" she may yet be a blessing to many.

To create an atmosphere of refinement and purity wherever she is. To best the young with cheerfulness, and to beckon on to the mountain path of self-control. To sustain in sorrow, to enter into high hopes and achievements. To stoop with womanly love to the weak and fallen. To strive to win for herself the words, "She did what she could."

If unmarried, to be a good sister and daughter; to take an interest in the home life, both in the anxieties and pleasures, so that the home and the world may be a brighter and better place for her being in it. If married, to make a happy and comfortable home for her husband, to be a good mother to her children, and a sympathetic and intelligent companion to him.

To live for those who love her, for those who know her truest for the heavens that smiles above her, and awaits her spirit, too.
For the cause that lacks assistance, for the wrong that needs resistance, for the future in the distance.
And the good that she can do.

If she can live to make some pale face brighter, and to give a second winter to some tear-dimmed eyes,
or even impart one hour of comfort to an aching heart,
or cheer some way worn soul in passing life.

HELPFUL HINTS.

To Cook Oatmeal.—Oatmeal that is put to soak in cold water overnight, may be cooked in the morning in one-half the usual time.—A. R. A., Buffalo, N. Y.

To Make Lemon-Flavoring.—The next time you use lemons, scrub them well, and grate off the yellow rind. Mix it with an equal amount of sugar and place in an air-tight bottle or box. It is good to use when you need a delicate lemon flavor, as in custards, cakes or pies.—M. S., Boston, Mass.

A Good Fumigator.—The following is a good fumigator. It will rid a house of insects of the most objectionable nature. With one ten-cent can of chloride of lime, and one ten-cent bottle of ammonia, you can fumigate four rooms. Take any old tin or zinc pail, put in center of room, open all closed doors; then put one-fourth of a can of lime in your pail and add to it one-fourth bottle of ammonia. You will have to leave the room for two or three hours. This is simple, and not at all dangerous.—M. C. E., North Conway, N. H.

To Freshen Vegetables.—When vegetables are wilted, add the juice of a lemon to a pan of cold water, and let them stand in it for an hour. They will be almost as fresh as when gathered.
This is especially good for lettuce, spinach, celery and parsley.—L. L., Cambridge, Mass.

Parents, Read this Letter!

I have a letter from a prominent Maine clergyman in regard to sickness of one of his children from which I quote as follows:
"Our two-year-old baby was very sick at two different times and we came near losing her. We had the best doctors, but they did not know what the trouble was. In the first sickness she had high fever for several days, and the doctor said it acted like scarlet fever, but there were no other cases he did not think it could be. Afterwards she broke out in a rash all over her body. The last sickness was similar and the doctor was puzzled. She was very nervous and we feared we would lose her.
Your Dr. King's Elixir was recommended, and after two days we saw the passed several worms from two to three inches in length, and is now well and strong and sleeps at night without fussing, tossing and starting in a fright as she did formerly."
I will be glad to furnish this clergyman's name and address to anyone who

N SICK TEEN YEARS

Health by Lydia
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound:

"I suffered for four years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors, but only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I have now been four months free from all my troubles and I feel as well as ever."

It will be of any benefit to you. Write for permission to publish. S. J. Gonyea, 455 Elkhart, Indiana.

A bill has been drawn up and it is planned to attempt to have it passed at this term of legislature, to have a building erected in this town to be used as a jail, court house and municipal offices. For a long time the expense which has to be paid out every year for the transportation of prisoners back and forth from Rumford to So. Paris, has been considered all together too large an expense to be borne without making an effort to provide something better. The bill which has been drawn up provides for the raising of the money in this way: the county of Oxford is to raise twenty-five thousand and the town of Rumford twenty-five thousand dollars for the erection of this edifice. At the March town meeting the matter will be thoroughly discussed and plans made.

An informal talk was held at the Business Men's Club rooms on Friday morning, but nothing as yet has been undertaken.

The Winthrop High School basketball team were defeated at Bethel, Saturday evening by a score of 20 to 18.

A new method was adopted at the inst. basket ball game at the Institute, which was most objectionable. The door leading to the gymnasium was not unlocked until exactly seven o'clock, and long before that time a large audience had assembled and were packed in like sardines around the narrow entrance. When the door was finally opened a grand stampede was the order of the day; as the door was very narrow serious accidents are liable to happen from such a crowd pushing as they did on last Friday evening. Many people remarked that if they had to go through such an experience again they would stay at home. It is to be hoped that this arrangement will not be tried again.

Quite a number have joined the dancing class instructed by Freeman Morrison, which meets on Thursday evenings.

The insurance companies have just received the new maps of the town of Rumford, Mexico and Dixfield, which are far superior to any maps which have ever been made of the towns up to this time.

Dr. C. M. Bisbee was confined to the house several days last week with a severe cold.

The Rumford High School basketball team and the Winthrop High team played together on Friday evening at the Institute. From the first minute that the Winthrop team began their practice on the floor it was seen that they far outclassed the Rumford boys in size, two of their number were six feet tall and splendid athletes. As soon as the game began it was evident that the Rumford team was no match for these fellows, although doing their best to keep up their end, they were outclassed from the first. Richardson made the first basket for Rumford, and played a good game, but his man was his superior, and this was a thing unknown before for "Scotty." Poulton played an excellent game, making two baskets from the side, which seemed impossible at first glance. Dyer also made one basket and Poulton and Richardson did some good foot shooting. At the close of the first half the score was 30 to 10 in favor of the Winthrop boys, and at the end of the second half it was 62 to 18. Throughout the entire game the opposing team showed the utmost courtesy and played the game fair from start to finish. They were perfect gentlemen; when one of the Rumford men got knocked out they were the first ones to come to his aid and do all they could to repair damages. The Rumford boys took their defeat in a good natured way, as they knew they were fairly beaten by one of the most skillful teams ever put on a floor.

LINCOLN AND MRS. CHAS.

MOULTON.

A story concerning Abraham Lincoln's musical attainments is preserved in Madame de Hogemann Lind-gren's "In the Courts of Memory."

At the Sanitary Fair held in Philadelphia in 1861, Madame de Hogemann Lindgren, then Mrs. Mantua, was asked to sing for the President. After she had finished "Robin Adair," Lincoln, holding her hand in a grip of iron, said: "Madam is not much in my eyes, but when you sing you warble yourself into a man's heart. I think you might become a musician if I heard you often, but so far I only know two tones." "What tones?" she asked. "You know that, I am sure!"

"Oh, yes, I know that," he replied,

"for I have to stand up and take off my hat." "And the other one?"

"The other one? Oh, the other one is the one when I don't stand up!"

HEART THRILLING GEMS.

ON FILE.
If an unkind word appears,
File the thing away.
If some novelty in jests,
File the thing away.
If some clever little bit Of a sharp and pointed wit,
Carrying a sting with it—
File the thing away.
If some bit of gossip come,
File the thing away.
Scandalously spicy crumb,
File the thing away.
If suspicion comes to you That your neighbor isn't true
Let me tell you what to do—
File the thing away!
Do this for a little while,
Then go out and burn the file.

LIVE IT DOWN.
"Has your heart a bitter sorrow?
Live it down.
Think about a glad to-morrow
And live it down.
You will find it never pays,
Just to sit, wet-eyed, and gaze
On the grave of vanished days—
Live it down.

Have you made some awful error?
Live it down.
Do not hide your face in terror,
But live it down.
Look the world square in the eyes;
Go ahead as one who tries
To be honored ere he dies;
Live it down."

GIVE HIM A LIFT.
"Give him a lift! Don't kneel in prayer,
Nor moralize with his despair.
The man is down, and his great need Is ready help—not prayer and creed.
'Tis time when the wounds are washed and healed,
That Christly motives be revealed;
Not now, whatever the spirit may be,
More words are but mockery.

One grain of aid just now is more
To him that tomes of vainly lore;
Pray if you must, in your full heart, But give him a lift—give him a start.

The world is full of good advice,
Of prayer, and praise, and preaching niles;
But the generous souls who aid mankind Are scarce as gold and hard to find.

Give like a Christian—speak in deeds.
A noble life's the best of deeds;
And he shall wear a royal crown Who gives 'em a lift when they are down."

LIFE'S LITTLE THINGS.
A little flower by the wayside growing Lifted its face to God, And passersby smile at the bit of brightness
Its beauty gave the sod.

A little word in thoughtful kindness spoken
Made glad a sorrowing heart, And those who heard it went their ways forgetting Life's bitterness and smart.

A little smile from one who was a stranger
Made glad a child's sad face,
And told it was as if a day of sunshine Dawned in the market place!

A little word that angry thoughts made bitter
Was spoken to a friend,
And a hot heart cooled on in grateful, dumb silence
Till the long day's end.

A little frown from one of whom a comrade
Sought to help in time of need Fetched the last hope of one whose heart was starving
For kindly word and deed.

These little things of life—but, oh!
how mighty
They are for good or ill—
To bless or blight—to ease another's burden,
Or make it heavier still.

Oh, be it mine by deed or word or kindness
To strengthen for the strife Weak hands and hearts that sorely lack the courage
To make the most of life.
—Ethan S. Newell to Christian Herald.

THE GOLDEN YEARS.

Thrilled with her songs the youthful
heart,
In that sylvan glen from the world apart,
Where a maiden sat by the old trout stream, Hopefully weaving her future's dream.

The lichen rock leaning over the pool,
Where willows dipped in the waters cool;
And the tangled swamp where the cat-tails grew,
And only the redwing ventured through;
The swirling waters made many a bed,
Where early strawberries ripened red;
And fathoms came and balanced, and then Cried, "Sweet too sweet," and were off again.

Oh, life is fair when the years are young,
And the songs we would sing are still unsung;
But the old, old years that did not stay,
Have hallowed grown since they pas-ed away.

ANXIOUS.
By Margaret J. Hays.
I hope Saint Valentine will bring Poor little me a bean.
I'm ten—so old as anything—
I've not got one, you know,
And Rosie Green—let's on'y nine—
Has a got a bean. She says it's fine To have a bean. I wish I had!
I never had one—on'y Dad,
'Cause every year he sends me mice,
I mean my picture valentine.
But this year I do hope—yes—oh, How glad I'd be if some real bean Would send the fastest ever seen To me, instead of Susy Green!
'Cause—don't you see I'm getting 'frail

Some day I'll be a real old maid.

MAINE'S ACADEMIES.

That the New England academy has more than a historic interest is clearly indicated by the figures reported to the State Educational Department relative to institutions of this kind for the year ending July 1, 1912. There are, according to these figures, forty-nine schools in Maine having the rank of academy, seminary or institute.
These schools enroll a total of 4,244 students, who receive instruction from 273 teachers. The total endowment of all schools of this class amounts to $1,594,349. Their investments in buildings and grounds is $1,348,340. The expenditures for the year amounted to $252,091. The special aid granted by the state for the period covered by the report was $23,000.

Thirty-five towns made contracts with these academies under the provision of the special act by which any town is authorized to make a contract with an academy for the schooling of its students of secondary school age; 1,640 pupils received their tuition through these contract arrangements.
In both free high schools and academies there were enrolled a total of 10,467 students and there were employed altogether 929 teachers.

Made My Life Worth Living

"I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me," writes Mrs. L. Dunlap, of Oak Grove, Mich. "I have suffered with pain in my back, and under my shoulder blade for a number of years,
also with a poor appetite and constipation.
I tried all of the remedies that I heard of,
and a number of doctors, but got no relief.
Finally a friend told me to try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I got a bottle of them and they soon helped my stomach; by their gentle action my bowels became more regular. Today I feel like a new woman. I am able to do all the work I wish to do, and I feel like a new woman.
They have cured me and made my life worth living."
